Big Clearance Sale of Shoes

There is lots of warm weather still ahead. Fully two more months may be had of Summer Footwear. We would rather close out what we have left of these goods at a sacrifice than carry them over until next spring. These quotations ought to make every foot in Maysville tingle for the want of a pair of shoes. In this sale all profits go glimmering, and in many instances still deeper cuts have been made and original costs have not been considered. Values are not fictitious, but former prices were readily obtained early in the season. Not many pairs are left in some of these lines, and if looking for a bargain with a big B you had better come quick before the lots are sold out.

Baretta is particularly favored for shirts, waists, dressing gowns, children's dresses, and it is given special recommendation for the wear and tear of the schoolroom. "WEALTH AND BEAUTY."

Abandon Letter to Ripley.

The parade at Maysville Wednesday, which closed the Elks Fair, was all in all a representation to be—and some more. The mounted police headed the line, followed by the First Regiment Band of Cincinnati. The Haymakers, chaperoned by Mr. Harwood, came next; then the fancy carriages and business advertisements, artistically decorated, and other minor mentions. Lastly were the Redmen, mounted in full dress, capturing fair faces, which caused merriment to ring throughout the city. It was a grand display of the wealth and beauty of Maysville. Those who attended the Elks Fair have it that it was much better this year than usual.

THE ELKS FAIR.

Local Gazette News.

The Elks Fair at Maysville closed Saturday evening after one of the most successful exhibitions ever held on the grounds.

While it was not the success financially that it should have been or that it merited, socially it was all that could be desired, as was attested by the words of praise from those who attended, the music alone being worth double the price of admission.

To Mr. Thomas A. Davis, President of the Fair Company, is due largely the success of the meeting and he was assisted by his fellow Elks whose chief pleasure seemed to be in making the patrons feel at home and that their presence was appreciated.

Even the poor newspaper man was met with a cordial grasp of the hand and conducted to the best seats, right up among the "quality" folks, and for a time at least was made to feel that life was worth living. "The best in the shop" was at their disposal, and they can now resume their meek and lowly occupation of chasing delinquent subscribers with a new hope.

Here's to the Elks Fair of 1902 with Thomas A. Davis as President.

C. and O. earnings the first week of September increased $13,000.

NEWMAN DISCHARGED.

The Slayer of Darius L. Moran Executed by Judge Newell.

After a most patient hearing, lasting the greater part of the day, Judge Charles D. Newell last afternoon discharged A. L. Newman from custody.

Newman, it will be remembered, shot and killed Darius L. Moran, at the joint home of the parties in Charleston Bottom, on Sunday afternoon last.

There was such a preponderance of testimony to show the quarrelsome character of the unfortunate man when under the influence of liquor, and the fact that he had been against Newman and his wife had been so numerous and persistent, that the Court was fully convinced that Mr. Newman acted purely in self-defense.

The affair was a most unfortunate one, and it is hoped the wounds from it will heal forever.

The Bonanza goes down tonight for Cincinnati.

The Lizzie Bay was up last night with a big trip for Charleston.

The towboat Oakland will tow coal from Pittsburgh to Louisville for the People's Coal Company.

There is a rise coming out of the Allegheny. It would not take much rain to make a coal shipping stage, as the ground is now thoroughly soaked.

The Louisville Post's River Man says the outlook for the fall and winter business by river this year is better now than were the prospects last September, yet the entire year since then has been an unusually brisk one, the tonnage that has been passed and been handled at this port being far greater than any year since the days of the bankrupt law in the 70's. There is no way to estimate how great the river commerce will be from now until next September, but there is every reason to believe that it will go far ahead of the present prosperous year. At Pittsburgh there are, all told, about 25,000,000 bushels of coal loaded and waiting for water to bring it to the markets of the South, while everything is ready to load that much more rapidly, should condition require. The output of manufactured steel ready for shipment is far above the average years in the 70's.
